YOU CONVERTED A LINK INTO A THREAT ASSESSMENT

TO	Captain Kyle Kennedy, Oregon State Police, Government and Media Relations
FROM	Robert Samuel White, P.O. Box 334, Reedsport, Oregon 97467
DATE	September 27, 2026
RE	Your order of March 4, 2026
TESTIMONY	v1.11
AI DISCLOSURE	How this record is made.

I know what you are now. You lead the press office for the Oregon State Police. That is the job. Someone at Oregon Parks and Recreation sent you a link to my website, and you converted it into a threat assessment, and then into an intimidation visit. That is by definition a corrupt act. I have not decided what I will do with that, but now I know who you are.

Jamen Lee sent you the link. Lee is Emergency Manager, Safety, Risk and Emergency Management, at the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department, and sent it at 3:41 PM on March 3, 2026, copying Deputy Director J.R. Collier: "Fyi - sharing for situational awareness since he is now including the Governor as well as our Director."[1]

An emergency manager with a threat has routes for it. Dispatch. A 911 call. A detective. The agency's own security. Lee used none of them. Lee wrote to the captain who handles the press and the legislature, and the reason Lee put in writing for doing so was that I was including the Governor and the Director in my correspondence.[1] There is no threat to a human being that belongs in that inbox.

At 10:02 the next morning you forwarded Lee's email to Lieutenant Haley McQuillan of the Criminal Investigations Division: "Would you take a look at the info below?" Your Department's dispatch record for that day reads: "Capt. Kennedy is requesting that a threat assessment be conducted asap."[1]

Nothing Lee sent you alleged a crime. Nothing Lee sent you quoted a threat. You asked for neither.

McQuillan sent it to Detective Jake Hyde. On March 6 Hyde read my archive and wrote to McQuillan: "Based on the website nothing is standing out to me more than what Parks and Rec sent you. Sounds like this person does have a grievance with the former employer."[1] On March 23 Detective Jerred Nelson opened a dispatch event naming me "Suspect," with the basis: sending "concerning emails to former supervisors in parks department and publicly airing grievances."[1] On March 24, one year to the day after OPRD dismissed me, Nelson, Hyde, and Forest Service Special [USFS Special Agent] came through a locked federal gate to the work center where I live and work.[1]

On April 2 I filed a public records request with your Department for the names and badge numbers of the officers who came to my door and for every communication about the planning of that visit, and I put your Department on notice to preserve all records related to it.[3] On April 13 I asked your Department to waive the $12.50 fee it had attached to the CAD record.[4] On April 15 Nelson wrote: "there is no evidence White has committed any crimes."[1]

Every one of those acts descends from the morning you sent Lee's email to Criminal Investigations. You hold the office that answers to the legislature and to the press. A problem about how a state agency looks arrived at your desk, and it left your desk as a criminal file on a citizen.

I wrote to you about this order on September 5, 2026.[2]

This letter is published, with the production it rests on, at https://oprdvolunteerabuse.org.

Respectfully,

Robert Samuel White

Sources

1. The records are produced, September 3, 2026. The full PR27478 production of the Oregon State Police, published the day it arrived.
2. Your order is the first act of state power in that file, September 5, 2026.
3. Public records request with preservation notice, April 2, 2026. “You are hereby on notice to preserve all records, communications, and documentation related to the March 24, 2026 visit.”
4. Fee waiver request, April 13, 2026. The $12.50 attached to the CAD record.