

FROM Robert Samuel White
TO [Volunteer Services Lead]
DATE March 2, 2025, 7:57 AM PT
SUBJECT Trust.
DOCUMENT 01JNBNSRN04NEM4MEZJG40Q3N5

[Volunteer Services Lead],

I don't trust you, and that's because your actions have given me no reason to.

When I confided in you about the situation with [Park Supervisor], you escalated it instead of protecting me. Then you disappeared.

When I applied for a job here, you distanced yourself again. The moment I withdrew my application, you reappeared—spending ninety minutes talking about yourself.

When I finally opened up to you about why I'm here, what I sacrificed to be here, and why this matters to me, you responded by trying to manage my perception instead of actually listening.

And then? You distanced yourself again.

When I warned you—privately—to prevent a repeat of the [Park Supervisor] situation, you assured me Leaf would train me. That didn't happen.

At every critical moment, you have failed to act with integrity.
At every opportunity to lead, you have instead chosen avoidance.

I will continue to do my job professionally for the next month.
You will ensure that my contributions are recognized appropriately in your system.

I will not allow the dysfunction here to interfere with my larger trajectory.
If there is any pushback on this, understand that I am fully prepared for it.

Sam

FROM Robert Samuel White
TO [Park Supervisor]
DATE March 2, 2025, 9:23 AM PT
SUBJECT Fw: Trust.
DOCUMENT 01JNBTPJ7GF0TJTD01ZVGVSPBG

Hello, [Park Supervisor].

I am forwarding this to you because I know you will receive a copy of it. I am not escalating. I am informing. I am here to do a job and then move on to the other parks on my path. If you wish to discuss anything, I'm more than happy to, but I feel this is an internal matter that will outlive me and thus there's really no reason for me to be involved.

Kind Regards,
Samuel

From: Robert Samuel White
Sent: Sunday, March 2, 2025 6:57:40 AM
To: [Volunteer Services Lead]
Subject: Trust.

[Volunteer Services Lead],

I don't trust you, and that's because your actions have given me no reason to.

When I confided in you about the situation with [Park Supervisor], you escalated it instead of protecting me. Then you disappeared.

When I applied for a job here, you distanced yourself again. The moment I withdrew my application, you reappeared—spending ninety minutes talking about yourself.

When I finally opened up to you about why I'm here, what I sacrificed to be here, and why this matters to me, you responded by trying to manage my perception instead of actually listening.

And then? You distanced yourself again.

When I warned you—privately—to prevent a repeat of the [Park Supervisor] situation, you assured me Leaf would train me. That didn't happen.

At every critical moment, you have failed to act with integrity.
At every opportunity to lead, you have instead chosen avoidance.

I will continue to do my job professionally for the next month.
You will ensure that my contributions are recognized appropriately in your system.

I will not allow the dysfunction here to interfere with my larger trajectory.
If there is any pushback on this, understand that I am fully prepared for it.

Sam