Good morning, [Volunteer Services Lead].

I appreciate the adaptation.

Would you like me to take on the gate duties as specified? I am happy to do it - this was not a ploy on my part. It feels like a natural part of my rhythm here.

I assume you're still evaluating me (this is fine) and maybe I'll hear about October before you've filled it? I would sincerely like to come back then.

Regarding next year, I ask that you consider me for this spot and this position from February through April. I'd like to be here through the end of the dune season if you're amenable. (Again, understand you are still evaluating me. Also understand if you have others for those months and would need to put me in different roles, I believe I'm open to that.)

Regarding my current job - first day, I forgot to write anything on the envelope. Second day, I did but I couldn't find anything in the binder telling me what to write there. I don't think I overlooked it but perhaps I did. I looked pretty hard though.

Definitely feeling the position out and developing a rhythm for it. See you at orientation.

Sam
