
THE MARCH 13 TRANSFER

On March 13, 2026, information held on Federal Bureau of Investigation systems moved into an Oregon State Police case file, sent by one officer holding two roles, in a matter that officer had declared two days earlier was not a federal case, and that never had a criminal predicate.

THE OFFICER

Jake Hyde, Detective, Oregon State Police, Portland. He signs his OSP correspondence “Detective Jake Hyde, Oregon State Police - Portland.” He also signs as “Task Force Officer, Jake Hyde - Oregon State Police, Portland FBI - JTTF,” and holds an FBI email account, JEHYDE@fbi.gov. Both signatures appear in the same production, in the same month, on the same matter.

THE PARTIES

- Oregon State Police: Hyde (detective and TFO); Lieutenant Haley McQuillan, Criminal Investigations Division, who routed the matter to Hyde on March 6; Detective Jerred Nelson, Major Crimes Section, case lead for SP26096984, who received the March 13 documents into the file; Sergeant Sean Henderson, who supervised.
- Federal Bureau of Investigation: Rebecca Christine Long (RCLONG@fbi.gov) and Jared Russell (JRUSSELL6@fbi.gov), both marked (PD) (FBI), who received the subject’s name from Hyde on March 6.
- Oregon Department of Justice: Dianne Greenlee, Criminal Intelligence Analyst, Oregon TITAN Fusion Center, Criminal Justice Division, who asked Hyde on March 11 to confirm who was handling the matter.

THE SEQUENCE

March 6, 2026, 9:10 AM. McQuillan to Hyde, at his OSP address: “some concerns in the Florence area.”

March 6, 9:17 AM. Hyde forwards the referral thread to his own FBI address, JEHYDE@fbi.gov.

March 6, 11:43 and 11:50 AM. Hyde, writing as “Hyde, Jake E. (PD) (TFO)” from JEHYDE@fbi.gov, to Long and Russell at the FBI: “Name is Robert Samuel White out of Florence Oregon. But I don’t have a DOB.” Long replies at 1:51 PM.

March 6, 1:14 PM. Hyde, back on his OSP account, reports to McQuillan: “Based on the website nothing is standing out to me more than what Parks and Rec sent you. Sounds like this person does have a grievance with the former employer.”

March 11, 10:18 AM. Greenlee, Oregon DOJ, to Hyde: “I wanted to check with you to confirm that FBI/OSP is handling this and that OTFC does not need to conduct additional research on Mr. White.”

March 11, 12:43 PM. Hyde to Greenlee: “Yes, that is correct. Just OSP it is not an FBI case.”

March 13, 9:54 AM. Hyde, from JEHYDE@fbi.gov, to his own OSP address, subject “FW: Threat assessment question,” attachments: “WHITE,ROBERT SAMUEL DMV.pdf” and “ReportRobertWhite.pdf.”

March 13, 9:57 AM. Hyde, from his OSP address, to Nelson: “See attached info, still waiting from USFS guy to get back to me on the volunteer status.” The documents enter SP26096984, the state threat-assessment file.

April 15, 2026. Nelson closes the file: “there is no evidence White has committed any crimes.”

THE TWO SENTENCES

March 11: “Yes, that is correct. Just OSP it is not an FBI case.”

WHAT THE RECORD DOES NOT SHOW

No criminal predicate at any point: the referral alleged no crime and quoted no threat, the reviewing detective found nothing on March 6, and the closed file states there is no evidence of any crime. No explanation of what “ReportRobertWhite.pdf” is, who prepared it, on what system it was created, or where it is retained. No record of any authority under which a driver’s record and a report about a citizen moved from federal systems into a state file the officer himself had declared non-federal. No record of whether the FBI retains its copy of either document, or of the March 6 name distribution, today.

THE QUESTIONS

1. Under what authority does a state detective, acting as a federal task force officer, use federal resources to obtain and transfer records about a citizen into a state matter he has stated in writing is not a federal case?
2. What did the FBI create and what does it retain about a citizen who was never suspected of a crime, including “ReportRobertWhite.pdf” and the March 6 name distribution?
3. Who, on either side of the state-federal seam, audits a dual-role officer’s movement of information across it?
4. Does ORS 181A.250, which restricts Oregon law enforcement from collecting or maintaining information about the political or social views, associations, or activities of an individual absent a criminal nexus, permit any of what this file shows?
